

Goals of the LEPC

- Education of community on their responsibility in emergency preparedness
- Support the Community Right to Know Act
- Establish and maintain a subcommittee structure consistent with optimal support of the mission
- Establish partnerships with local, regional, state or national groups and organizations
- Stay in touch with changing views and needs of community
- Increase public awareness

Create a disaster kit

- › Use easy-to-carry containers.
- › Plan for at least 5 days.
- › Make sure everyone knows where kit and other essential supplies are kept.
- › Check annually.

Learn to be helpful to your community and first responders by training to be a CERT member. Next 8 week class starts September 12, 2019. Contact Donald Hunter for details. CERT = Community Emergency Response Team

Murphy's law: "Anything that can go wrong, will go wrong"

Prepare for everything, and hope you don't need it

What is the role of the LEPC?

To support emergency planning for chemical hazards; and provide local government and the public with information about possible chemical hazards

To assist with issues of emergency preparedness beyond chemical hazards to include:

- Natural Disasters (Hurricanes, Tornadoes, Thunderstorms, Winter Storms, Floods, Fires, Earthquakes)
- Industrial Emergencies (Power Outages, Chemical and Nuclear Incidents)

Are you prepared?

Who is on the LEPC?

LEPCs are made up of people who care about YOU. Government officials, police, fire and emergency medical personnel, industry reps, media, interested citizens and volunteers. It's your county - be involved! Come join us!
